REGION OVERVIEW

The Gulf Cooperation Council [GCC] is a part of the DuPont Middle East, North Africa and Pakistan (MENAP) region. GCC countries include Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and United Arab Emirates. Since 1995, DuPont has opened offices in Dubai, Abu Dhabi and Dammam and in Doha, Qatar in 2015. DuPont is committed to supporting and participating in the new economic, industrial and scientific developments in the GCC.

DuPont is well positioned for accelerated and sustainable growth in the GCC, which represents one of the fastest-growing markets for the company. In the past two decades, DuPont has focused on sustainable growth driven by innovation, development of base infrastructure, localized technology exchanges, research collaborations and regional governmental authority cooperation. We are elevating our presence in the region and serving as a solution provider to key industries – including food, nutrition and health, oil & gas, construction & infrastructure – enabling us to reach key economies in the region especially in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates and Qatar.

The GCC is at a moment of unprecedented demographic opportunity. Youth, as represented by those under the age of 25, represent one-half of the population, presenting local governments with an opportunity to propel their nations forward, advance development and continue building knowledge economies.
